Mind the Gap

Christine Casten
Executive Director of TWC

A few years ago, my family traveled to England. While learning to navigate the subway system and see the typical sites, we loved hearing the PA speaker say, “Mind the gap.” The doors would open and we would immediately look for the gap, step over it and be fully in our destination. Sometimes the gap was fairly small, other times it was much wider, but we had to be careful and “mind” our steps to shift from the vehicle to where we wanted to be.

Each of us is in a similar situation. We have moved in an accelerated vehicle of our transition and are reaching our new destinations. Whether those destinations are internal or external territories, we usually have a gap we must mind to reach them.

The gap is the difference of who we are to who we are becoming.

God sees us in our current state. He also knows what creates the gap toward a way of living life to our fullest.

Over the years, the gap has represented many different things.

- Sometimes it is the way we think about things (mindset).
- Sometimes it is the filter we use to see what is happening around us (perceive).

Just like hearing the voice over the PA, language is given toward recognizing the gap is present. In a similar way, the discovered truth of how we believe or what we see represents the first step of making it over the gap.

Continued...

However, the next thing we have to do is put our mind toward overcoming it. What is needed to fill the gap? Is it something that needs to shift in me, in healing, skill development, or a better revelation? Putting our mind to it creates the space for our choice to be made, and idea to move out of theory to reality.

Most people stop here. They have the understanding. They have the solution and they grab hold of what it is...and just hold onto it. They miss the fact that this new revelation requires a commitment to see it operate.

The next step is action. How do we walk it out?

This is truly where the tread of our sneakers meet the road. Theory becomes application. Practice becomes a habit. Step by step, we are able to put one foot on the other side of that gap. However, if one foot is in the new destination and the other is still straddles the gap, we will not be grounded. We will not be able to step into and hold the ground.

Moving fully to the other side of the gap in our lives means that truth becomes a part of us.

It becomes something we do not think about anymore, because it is so embedded in our DNA. To establish that truth in your life is the difference between head knowledge and knowing that you know, an unshakeable way of living.

What ways are you straddling the gap? How are you stepping fully into your destination?

Warrior Class Training

Warriors & Champions

Graham's heart is to train us up to be more than foot soldiers. He desires to have us rise up to be Warriors, Champions and Game Changers. It is part of our identity we are discovering, learning how to grow and live out.

Allison posed the question on one of her Chat with AI training calls. What is the difference between a Warrior and a Champion? How would you define them? Great questions to explore! We have on our website under Resources, "Warriors Are" Declarations. These are a great litmus test on how many are established within us and how have we taken these and impacted our spheres of influence with the Kingdom of God.

Graham also has a teaching called The Way of the Warrior and a 3 book series to expound on these on the Brilliant Book House website. Within each, you can hear the language of a Warrior and Champion.

One who has a powerful inner life that impacts our external surroundings with the Kingdom of God. One that calls people up and sets the enemies armies to flight merely by their presence.
One who through their permissions releases identity, inheritance and destinies.

These are foundational truths we are all growing up in, establishing and living out. I encourage you all to check these resources out and explore the questions Allison brought up above.

Fullness & Abundance

This month our community will focus on the Key Territory of Fullness & Abundance.

*Key Territories are found on the website.
Resources/Training Journals 15 & 16*

Knowing we have fullness now and are complete in Christ is means for great celebration. Learning to live in His fullness and abundance becomes our journey and joy. It is a powerful mindset that shifts our approach from what seems to be missing, lacking or wrong to how do I find and operate out of the fullness made available to us.

I also encourage you to journal the following:

- What new perceptions does He want to give us?
- What promises are in the place of growth?
- What aspect of my new man do I get to walk in more completeness?
- How will walking in fullness change the way I think, see and talk?
- What other things does fullness and abundance open up?

Testimony:

Just this last week I had a meeting with other leaders of a Community I am part of. As I purposed a way to bring people to reconciliation a friend told me "you know Dulce, you are asking too much! We've been trying to solve this for years but it's getting worse!" And I said: "What if God has a provision attached already to this situation and we just need to focus on that? What if we have the courage to step forward knowing that God will back us up and there's no way to fail?" The entire atmosphere of the meeting changed from "negative" to being hopeful and some were actually excited! ~ Dulce Gerath

Warrior Declarations for Fullness & Abundance Territory

We thank You Father that we are developing the capacity to live in the fullness of life in Christ. We rejoice and receive the abundance of Your great and precious promises. You are the Champion Gift Giver—and we are becoming Champion Receivers.

We declare and release into this Territory:

Eyes to see and ears to hear the reality of who we are in Christ and the fullness of that inheritance. A spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Christ in us, the hope of all glory.

A divine revelation of goodness so massive that it overwhelms and overcomes all obstacles, challenges and opposition.

We lock up:

Limited, measured mindsets and push open the unlocked door of God's exceeding abundance.

Fear of presumption—and with the keys of Perfect Love, we unlock divine confidence in Permission Granted, believing God for who He really is.

Budgeting for the worst and unlock the faith that gives and spends for God's best.

Instead of fearing enemy response, we see all opposition as an opportunity for God's majesty.

Instead of weariness from making ends meet, we choose the confidence of the Beloved that perceives Your inheritance as ours.

Instead of considering defeat as an option, we know that with You, nothing is impossible.

Instead of trying to think outside the box, we grasp the reality that there is no box. We ask in the name of Jesus, that all people would encounter and come to know these truths. That the eyes of their hearts would be enlightened; re-forming their perceptions, mindsets, language and actions to align with the mind of Christ and the heart of the Father.

And empowered by the Holy Spirit, to revolutionize their families, communities and regions with how good You really are and how beloved we are each created to be. That life on earth would be as You see it in heaven for us and all believers.

Graham in Portland, Oregon TWC Testimonies

I'm still overwhelmed by everything that Graham released over the weekend at the Identity Reborn conference in Portland.

He was so full of energy, joy, and strength! I think all that was released to us as well during the conference. I remember I was experiencing so much joyful and anticipation before the event started. I haven't felt like that in a very long time – I can't remember when was the last time I felt like that. To be honest, I think I've never felt like that. Graham's teachings were full of the wisdom.

Graham is truly brilliant in using simple language, great analogies and humor. The more I listen to him, the more Holy Spirit turns these truths into a reality in my life. I was extremely blessed and proof of it is that, after the conference, I've found myself spontaneously dancing and/or strutting like John Travolta in Staying Alive – LOL ☺

Angela Rivera
Warrior Team Member

Juna Light Stayner and Angela Rivera

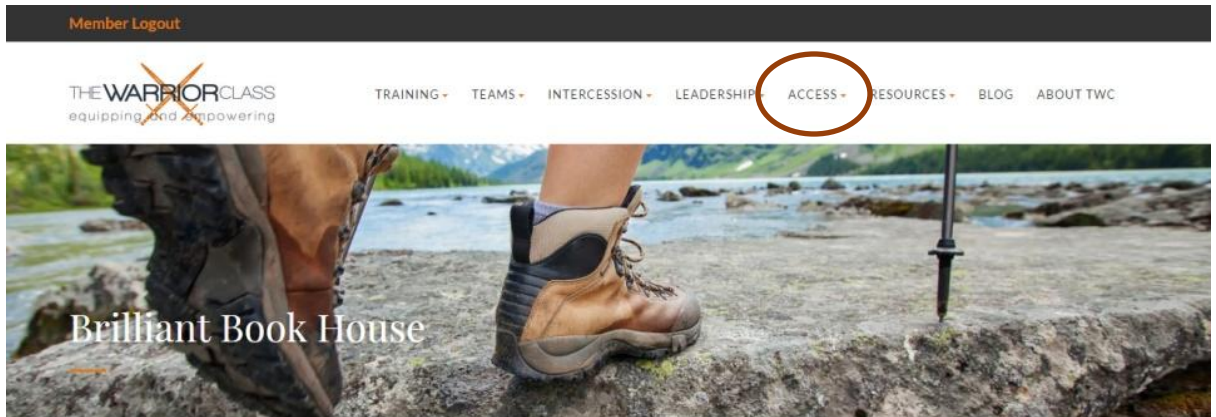

I have been to many of Graham's conferences and each new one seems to be better than the last. Identity Reborn was about laying the groundwork for how we grow into our identity in terms of our relationship with God. He was brilliant and charismatic full of energy, humor and truth. I lit up when he shared that his talk on Identity Reborn was actually the predecessor to Living Your Truest Identity.

When he spoke of repenting towards the new man and not from the old, I have to admit I missed the next few points he made, as I had to process that. Had I heard this before, but this was the first time it registered. It was more of Graham's deep wisdom for me to absorb. When he makes simple statements like "Look at all my situations and ask God have I received the gift I need for this situation" I find myself soaking in the words to ponder. But these aren't just ideas. They're actions that will alter my life and are definitely an everlasting catalyst to grow my relationship with God and growing up in God.

Jenny Taylor & Allison

"This year feels like we're seeing the fullness of a dream we've had for several years. It's opening a big space for Brilliant that is exciting. The collaboration between Shawn, Jonathan, Melissa and Graham is especially enjoyable to watch unfold. I always look forward to see the TWC members. Every year, it's as if no time has passed at all. We pick up right where we left off. You are an amazing contribution and create a divine environment for all delegates to walk into. Thank you for your prayers!" ~ Jenny Taylor, PA to Graham Cooke

One of the key partnerships between the Brilliant community and The Warrior Class are Brilliant Events, now held annually in Anaheim, CA. It's more than a conference for us. It's an opportunity to create a catalytic environment for encounters with God. So the room arrangement, worship, stage and layout is intentional and carefully considered. We want everyone attending to have an experience they can continue to unwrap and develop into a lifestyle!

Theresa Cooke and Jenny Taylor are amazing in their vision and creativity towards this outcome. Our newest team member: Allie Merrill, is also joining in this year to help bring "Expectation" to life. Here's a peek at what they do so you can not only cheer them on, but also pray for them specifically and powerfully:

Theresa Cooke

Theresa is the Director of Brilliant Events and the dynamo that makes sure they don't just happen, but happen with excellence! She scouts locations, negotiates contracts with her exceptional favor (the stories are legendary) and continually connects with the hotel to provide everything our delegates and production team needs.

Theresa has championed our substantial TWC discount and has made sure we had the rooms we needed for Training Days... because she so greatly appreciates the prayer and support TWC has given us through the years!

Jenny Taylor

Jenny assists Theresa with the negotiation process, scouting and continued visits to the chosen venue prior to the event. She sets up online registration and coordinates team communication and volunteers. Once the event starts, she is the on-site contact for our volunteer leads and graciously responds to delegates as needed. She really is the Queen of Everything!

Meet Allie Merrill!

Allie is our newest member of the Brilliant team and the 5th (Floor) Wave, assisting Jenny in the office. She is part of the Tuesday night millennial group that meets with Graham and Theresa and an incredibly talented musician and singer. She's currently recording her own album, doing all of the instruments and vocals herself. She hasn't broken into song yet at the office, but we're hopeful! Allie provides customer support for Brilliant Events and will oversee registration and registration volunteers in Anaheim. She's bright, fun and a wonderful addition to the crew.

Currently, we have only about 200 spaces left for "Expectation!" There are 82 Warrior Class members registered so far, so don't wait. We've never filled this early before, so be sure you and your guests have a spot!

THE PURPOSE OF THE WARRIOR CLASS: To empower and equip men and women to become world-class warriors living a brilliant life with God.

I don't know about you, but when I first joined TWC I had no idea what I was stepping into. I had no idea of the adventure I was in for. I had expectations based on past experience, but they were shot down very early in the travels with TWC (I had nothing to really compare this adventure to).

I was marching blind, ready for whatever was around the next corner or behind the tree up ahead. I honestly had no idea of the training I was about to take part in, the level of warfare I would encounter in such a joyous manner, or the quality of leadership I was so blindly following. And when I stepped into this band of brothers there were only two training journals and no Key Territories yet!

Now you have 16 Training Journals and the Key Territories to help lead your way. But what we all started with hasn't changed. To me, one of the most important aspects of TWC, even more so than all the training journals and Key Territories, are the Values and Principles TWC was founded on.

Oh, I paid little attention to them at first. They were more an academic item to check off. I had to read through them and choose one that stood out to me along with The Decisions That Define Us. They all looked good. They were refreshing after experiencing so many rules and regulations. However, the idea that TWC was, and still is, based in process and not program hadn't filtered down to just how impactful it could be.

It was at a training day in Anaheim when the leadership passed out a printed copy of the Values and Principles of TWC that I really began to take notice. After all, if it was important enough to bring our attention to them perhaps that is where my attention should go.

This is where our feet are planted in TWC. The values don't change. As a community, we can be fluid and flexible and organic. The transition we, as a community of warriors, traveled through this year is proof of that. But what made it seamless, causing very few waves was that we never deviated from those values, or the principles that expand them and the action plans that put them into motion.

I have had the joy of realizing that these values are for life not only for TWC. I have been living them because of the training. They are a part of climbing the mountain to live higher and they are part of being joyfully intentional. They are a part of identity and being and becoming a spiritual warrior. They are part of the process.

Each month I have the pleasure of holding a conference call called "Where Our Feet Are Planted." I am looking forward to a brilliant conversation and sharing with you as we traverse the values, principles and actions and how they have an effect on our training and our lives. Watch for the calendar in the Member Update. After all, it is the process that makes us rich!

Sharon Rudolph
Warrior Team Coach

“Warrior Team is a group of warriors, pioneers and explorers who continue to strengthen their training and community through a focused, self-paced training. We climb to new altitudes, acclimate and passionately pursue our growth through all training levels and modules. We are team coached and given opportunities for training and idea exchanges through conversational calls, specialty training, and an increasing variety of media.”

Intimacy with God supernaturally brings what could feel impossible into our reality of everyday life: I am loved – loved by the God of the Universe.

Developing intimacy is a skill, a tool, a joyful necessary part of every warrior’s life. On May 10th my Warrior Team call embarked on a discovery mission to explore what intimacy with God is on an individual basis. We’d all been exploring on our own and this call gave opportunity for people to share their personal journey in being loved.

The call’s information foundation was in Allison’s stories in Joyful Intentionality and Graham’s teaching from Overcoming Life 2. I knew intimacy as a weapon in my own life, and wanted to convey that to others. I heard that same truth in the individual stories of the people gracious enough to risk in this adventure with me. The Lord had been showing up in quiet, in worship, in rocking chairs, outside in nature, in stillness, in the fjords of Norway, in words written in South Africa, in singing in the spirit, in thanksgiving, in a kiss from heaven, in listening to and creating music, and on and on.

His presence knows no bounds. The common thread – you have to look for it and intentionally participate in the relationship.

Throughout the month of May, Holy Spirit continued the theme of intimacy and receiving love on Eric Dykstra’s call on The Art of Meditation, Focus, and Soaking, and on Lori Mateer’s call on Taking and Holding Ground. All of these calls covered great weapons to use as you partner with Jesus to conquer whatever giants are in the land, even if that’s your own internal territory of Being the Beloved.

Intimacy can be tough territory to conquer. Sometimes it’s training, but sometimes you just need to know that Jesus heals, and He has already removed whatever may be getting in your way.

On July 14th, I’ll be hosting Developing Intimacy 2.0 to pursue this deeper and to provide information for those who missed the first call. The Developing Intimacy call in May had some technical difficulties, so it was not recorded, but the other two are available under videos on the Warrior Team Facebook page.

While you’re waiting to join in the next time around consider this question: “What victories have your intimacy with the Lord won for you?”

– Sharon

“Champions Team is a company of warriors who have decided to run harder, go faster, climb higher and endure longer through a group mentoring process. Momentum is key in everything we do! Available through application after completion of Level 1, we build community through team and training calls, Facebook conversations and pouring back into the TWC community in various ways. We are discovering many upgrades to add to our walk. If you are interested in applying to the Champions Team, you must have completed and turned in your Level 1 by April 15th, 2017. Look for more information in the Member Update.

Champions Team call: Grace Growers or Agents of Change?

Grace growers. We all have them, sometimes it seems like we have herds of them like rhinoceros ready to trample us at a moment's notice. But what if my perception of this is skewed?

The Lord has been speaking to me about a lens that I had picked up regarding people I see as challenging. People He has placed in my life to bring about a change inside of me. Somehow, I had picked up a lens that looked at them as someone who is there to torment me until I change. Where ever did that come from? If the Lord has brought them into my life, then there is Goodness and Grace to be had in the process. What if the challenge is really only in my perception? What if I were to embrace the changes He wishes to make inside of me? Could it change how I saw them, and could this transform my entire experience?

What if I began to see these formerly “challenging” people as opportunities to bring about a change in my heart?

The call on Grace growers on May 10th was rich and the sharing of our collective experiences offered a rich wisdom on the changes the Lord has brought about in us. Changes in how we see ourselves and others.

In the end, it was all about love. How much love is needed to touch this person? It is about being able to love without expecting anything in return. This is the love that Jesus offers so freely to all of us, and our experiences with others are opportunities to dig out the well, replacing the muck and yuck we have accumulated over the years with more of Him. To replace this with more living water to pour out on a dry and parched land.

Many wonderful experiences were shared. In some of them the other persons heart was changed, but in all of the experiences shared what mattered most was that our hearts were changed, and once that happened it no longer mattered if the other person ever changed or not.

Are you needing a change of lens in how you see the challenging people in your life?

What if they are there as agents of Divine Exchange? Pointing out something inside of you that the Lord has a wonderful upgrade for? Would this change how you saw them?

- Christine

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT:

Hazel Carter Strachan
Warrior Team Member

About you

I am Hazel Carter Strachan from the beautiful twin-island Republic of Trinidad and Tobago. I love the Lord and His Word is my greatest passion and inspiration. Worship is a key that has unlocked doors and destroyed barrenness in my life. I have used worship as a weapon since I accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as my Lord and Saviour at age sixteen. I am a Human Resource and Learning and Development professional. God graciously joined me to “The Warrior Class” in April 2016. I stand in a broad place surrounded by opportunities that I can only see through the eyes of my new man. I have transitioned from being a survivor to becoming a Warrior and one of my strongest bases is being a member of The Warrior Class.

Becoming the Beloved

I am the beloved of the Lord and His extravagant love changed my lens, I hear the Christ in me speaking louder and clearer. I hear and understand the language of love, the pure language that can only be understood when I am aligned to the Christ in me. God has trained my mind to think with abundance so I do not have an impoverished mentality. I know I am the beloved and I expect nothing but goodness and kindness from God. I am overflowing with the goodness and kindness of God so when I do not receive it from man I have enough to give, that’s why I can pray for my enemies and lavish His love on them. I attract the resources and provision of heaven as I understand my identity as the beloved and the lavish abundance that God has poured out on me.

What part of God’s nature are you discovering?

The aspect of His nature that attracts me to Him and makes me feel most relaxed is that of Light. He is the light of the world and in His light I see light. Jesus as light provides knowledge, understanding, wisdom and revelation that empowers me. Because He is light I am attracted to Him. I am drawn by the Light of Life and I feel blessed, special, relaxed, chosen, adored, and accepted. I feel that acceptance in the beloved most when the nature of God as Light of Life is seen. My name is Hazel, from the biblical Hazael which means the Lord has seen. His light has illuminated darkness, old mind-sets, religiosity and lies. The platform of lies I once believed has been demolished by His light and I can see. I have a new lens.

In what ways are your thoughts and language being upgraded in TWC?

Putting on the mind of Christ is no longer an abstract verse in the Bible. It is a reality and I have experienced a lens change. My thoughts affect my sight and I see situations differently; I see trials as opportunities to plunder, mine and obtain spoils. Joy is literally a language of its own. I rename all my situations “pure joy.” I own joyful intentionality and circumstances have to come through this territory to get to me. When circumstances pass through they get translated, flipped, and renamed. I plunder circumstances in this battle, circumstances do not plunder me. My relationship with my husband has improved significantly and I am calling him up to how he is known in heaven by walking toward him in the opposite spirit. I no longer use language to place demands on him and how I think he should behave. I use language to proclaim those demands in the spirit through crafted prayer that moves in the opposite spirit. Instead, I abide in love and affection for him so that I am a visual aid to him of true Christ-likeness and kindness.

My Identity Statements

I am a bridal warrior adorned in righteousness with divine access, a portal opener to the palace of the King.

I am a daystar gazer one who focuses on the Lord and not circumstances around me.

A giant slayer who enjoys warfare, empowered by the Lord Sabaoth in battle to move mountains.

A light bearer who brings illumination and God's majesty into any situation, driving out darkness.

An oracle and orator of God who constantly scribes and proclaims what God is currently saying.

I am a living epistle Christ lives in me His story and journey in me is His visual aid in the earth.
